

CHRYSLER
June 11, 2009

If you are subject to a Chrysler site control agreement, during the oral arguments before the Bankruptcy Court that were held on Tuesday, Chrysler agreed to reject those agreements as part of the rejection of the franchise agreements. This would mean that you will be released from any site control agreement. The dealer may have to take affirmative action to obtain such a release. We will advise later and would be available to assist any dealer in obtaining the release.
